When Galileo Galilei first saw Saturn through a telescope in the 1600s, he wasn’t sure what he was seeing. At first he thought he was looking at three planets, or a planet with handles. Now we know those “handles” turned out to be the rings of Saturn.